

ELSEVIER LTD
TRANSFER OF COPYRIGHT AGREEMENT

Scientific publishers and authors share a common interest in the protection of copyright: authors principally because they want their creative works to be protected from plagiarism and other unlawful uses, publishers because they need to protect their work and investment in the production, marketing and distribution of the chapter written by the author. In order to do so effectively, publishers request a formal written transfer of copyright from the author(s) for each chapter published. Publishers and authors are also concerned that the integrity of an chapter (once refereed and accepted for publication) be maintained, and in order to protect that reference value and validation process, we ask that authors recognize that distribution (including through the Internet/WWW or other on-line means) of the version of the chapter as accepted for publication is best administered by the Publisher.

To avoid any delay in the publication of your chapter, please read the terms of this agreement), sign in the space provided and return the complete form to us at the address below as quickly as possible.

Chapter entitled:
Corresponding author:
To be published in the book: Proceedings of 8 th World Renewable Energy Congress

I hereby assign to Elsevier Ltd

the copyright in the manuscript named above (the "chapter") in all forms and media (whether now known or hereafter developed), throughout the world, in all languages, for the full term of copyright and all extensions and renewals thereof, effective when and if the chapter is accepted for publication. This transfer includes the right to adapt the presentation of the chapter for use in conjunction with computer systems and programs, including reproduction or publication in machine-readable form and incorporation in retrieval systems.

I understand that a large number of author uses are retained or permitted (without the need to obtain permission from Elsevier) to enable continued use of the chapter for traditional scholarship communications, for teaching, and for distribution within my institution. I confirm that I have read and understand the full list of rights retained by authors and also agree to the other General Terms of Publication (see below).

- 9        I am the sole author of the manuscript
- 9        I am one author signing on behalf of all co-authors of the manuscript
- 9        The chapter is a 'work made for hire' and I am signing as an authorised representative of the employing company
- 9        I am a US Government employee and there is no copyright to transfer, but I affirm the author warranties (see note 4)
- 9        I am a co-author who is not a US Government employee but whose co-authors are government employees (see note 4)
- 9        I am an employee of the UK, Canadian or Australian Government claiming Crown Copyright, but I affirm the author warranties (see note 5)
- 9        I am a co-author who is not claiming Crown Copyright but whose co-authors are employees of the UK, Canadian or Australian Government (see note 5)

General Terms of Publication

1. Rights of authors

The following rights are retained by authors:

- Patent and trademark rights and rights to any process or procedure described in the chapter.
- The right to include the chapter in full or in part in a thesis or dissertation provided that this is not to be published commercially.
- The right to photocopy or make electronic copies of the chapter for their own personal use, including for their own classroom use, or for the personal use of colleagues, provided that the copies are not offered for sale and are not distributed in a systematic way outside of their employing institution (e.g. via an e-mail list).
- The right to retain a pre-print version of the chapter on an electronic public server.
- The right to post the final published version of the chapter on a secure network (not accessible to the public) within the author's institution.
- The right, subsequent to publication, to use the chapter or any part thereof, free of charge in a printed compilation of works of their own, such as collected writings or lecture notes.
- If the chapter is a 'work for hire' made within the scope of the author's employment, the employer may use all or part of the information in this chapter for intra-company use.
- The right to present the paper at a meeting or conference and to hand copies of the paper to the delegates attending the meeting.
- The right to prepare derivative works, with full acknowledgement to Elsevier.
- The right to extend the chapter into book-length form, with full acknowledgement to Elsevier.
- The right to re-use parts of the paper in other works, provided that the new work is not to be published commercially. For commercial publication, prior permission should be sought from Elsevier in writing.

All copies, paper or electronic, or other use of the information must include an indication of the copyright ownership and a full citation of the book source.

2. Requests from third parties

Requests for all uses not included above, including the authorization of third parties to reproduce or otherwise use all or part of the chapter (including figures and tables), should be referred to the Elsevier Global Rights Department by going to our Web site at <http://www.elsevier.com/homepage/support/> and selecting 'Permissions'.

3. Author warranties

- The chapter you have submitted to the book for review is original, has been written by the stated authors and has not been published elsewhere.
- The chapter is not currently being considered for publication by any other book and will not be submitted for such review while under review by the book.
- The chapter contains no libellous or other unlawful statements and does not contain any materials that violate any personal or proprietary rights of any other person or entity.
- You have obtained written permission from copyright owners for any excerpts from copyrighted works that are included and have credited the sources in your chapter.
- If the chapter was prepared jointly with other authors, you have informed the co-author(s) of the terms of this copyright transfer and that you are signing on their behalf as their agent, and represent that you are authorized to do so.

4. US Government employees

- If all co-authors are US Government employees there is no copyright to transfer. Please sign the form, to confirm the author warranties.
- If there is a number of co-authors, of which at least one is a US Government employee (and this work was prepared in such capacity) and at least one is not a government employee, the non-government author should sign this form, indicating transfer of those rights which such author has (also on behalf of any other non-government co-authors).

5. Crown Copyright

- UK Government employee authors may elect to transfer copyright.
- UK Government employees wishing to claim Crown Copyright should mark the appropriate box overleaf and sign the form to affirm the author warranties.
- The work of Canadian or Australian Government employees is automatically subject to Crown Copyright. Please mark the appropriate box and sign the form to affirm the author warranties.
- If there is a number of co-authors, of which at least one is claiming Crown Copyright and at least one is not an employee of the UK, Canadian or Australian Government, the non-government author should sign this form, indicating transfer of those rights which such author has (also on behalf of any other non-government co-authors).

6. Elsevier's AiP (Articles in Press) service

Elsevier may choose to publish an abstract or portions of the paper before we publish it in the book. Please contact our Production department immediately if you do not want us to make any such prior publication for any reason, including disclosure of a patentable invention.
